WASHINGTON CITY

How the House Stands on Tariff

NEW YORK, April 27.—The Tribune's Washington special says a careful canvass of the House on the Wood tariff bill has been made and it turns out as follows. To all for the bill 140 total against the bill, 136. In this canvass the speaker is counted as voting and there is a vacancy on the Louisiana delegation. The majority against the bill is therefore 21 and unless Wood includes that discrepancy is the better part of valor and postpones action on the measure until next session the enacting clause will probably be stricken out.

Chances of Wood's Tariff Bill.

The chances for Wood's tariff bill do not seem to improve. Even prominent free traders denounce it as anything but an intelligent effort to put the tariff on a revenue basis. Some declare it a plunder tariff and not a bill for sound business men of any interest, either among protectionists or free traders.

In this way only, the Republican says can the cry of fraud be hushed and the president be allowed to hold his office in peace during the remainder of his term.

New Port of Entry.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The house committee on commerce has agreed to report favorably the bill constituting Jersey City a port of entry and providing for the appointment of a collector of customs.

Quick Congressional Work

WASHINGTON April 27.—For the first time in many years if not for the first time in American history the house of representatives to day passed the annual Indian appropriation bill without one word of general debate and without devoting in the aggregate as much as thirty minutes to the consideration of its separate items over and above the two hours which were occupied by the clerk in hurriedly reading the bill. It has usually been the subject of general debate for three or four days and controversies concerning individual paragraphs and amendments have commonly consumed at least a week additional time.

The legislative executive and judicial appropriation bill will doubtless be passed with very similar expedition. The tariff bill seems certain to be killed after a short debate and unless a majority of the house commit the blunder of engrafting Banning's demagogue measures upon the army bill there will be no thing to prevent the final adjournment of congress on the date already proposed, by the senate namely June 10th.

Throwing Off the Blame.

The house members of the California delegation think they have been unjustly blamed for the smallness of the amount provided by the river and harbor appropriation bill for the improvement of California rivers. The items for river and harbor improvements excepting provisions for experimental surveys were never placed in the bill by the committee which prepares it unless such improvements are recommended by the chief of army engineers or have at least been estimated for by that bureau of the war department. The California members alluding to this well known equivalent remark that neither recommendation nor estimate was made by the engineer corps for any improvement of San Joaquin river and that no recommendation was made by it for the improvement of the Sacramento and Feather rivers. An estimate of $20 000 was however transmitted in regard to the Sacramento and Feather rivers and an appropriation of $15 000 was procured on the strength of this estimate being 75 per cent of its whole amount. This percentage is largely in excess of the average proportion granted by the bill whose total is not one-third of the total estimates submitted. The estimate for Wilmington was $50 000 unaccompanied by a recommendation, and the appropriation of $200,000 was recommended for Oakland. The amount obtained in each case is 40 per cent of the estimate.

The Agitators' New Programme.

CHICAGO April 27.—The Tribune's Washington special says the plan now talked of among Democratic agitators and which is likely to be introduced in the Democratic caucus next week is to secure the adoption of a resolution directing the judiciary committee to sit during the recess and investigate the presidential title and all questions pertaining thereto. Then if any evidence can be manufactured to show that the president had any knowledge of frauds anywhere to impeach him. However such proceeding would leave Wheeler president and not Tilden and the Democrats would no benefit thereby. It is quite evident that some fiendish cabal are joining with the Democrats in the conspiracy against the president, and the fact is significant that these confessions do not point to W. E Chandler as architect or in the alleged frauds.

Blair Despondent.

Blair is very despondent to night and says Democrats do not go operate with him but says the country will demand it of them some time.

Russia's Credit

Russian exchange has depreciated about 4 per cent. the past week. Large quantities of Russian paper money fresh from the press are being continually sold on the Berlin market. The change below St. Petersburg quotations. The notes are mostly sent back to Russia and invested in corn exchanges.

Issues of the Dispute.

LONDON April 27.—The Times comments on a dispatch from its St Petersburg correspondent in which it is stated that one issue out of present complications consists in undoing much of Russia's work and giving the rest a European instead of a purely Russian character. That another consists in what is called the principle of equivalents or compensation to the powers for Russia's acquisitions, and that the latter is one which Russia desires while Great Britain seems resolved to insist upon the former. The article says it is a portion of Turkey that Russia desires now. It was partition she desired at the time of the Crimean war. Against such policy we contested then and are contending.

Making Matters More Complicated

BERLIN, April 27.—The North German Gazette says: We will not conceal the opinion that the dispatch of the British fleet to the Baltic, where many neutral interests might be affected, would make the situation immeasurably more complicated.

German Mediation.

ST PETERSBURG April 27.—The Agence Russe says the assertion that German mediation is broken off is false. It has attained its object by smoothing the way for an exchange of views between the cabinets which exchange is now proceeding.

England's Inconsistency.

VIENNA, April 27.—The Political Correspondence's correspondent at St Petersburg under date of April 23 says the negotiations in relation to the mutual withdrawal from constantinople had then taken an unfavorable turn, in consequence of England suddenly claiming the fleet should not be retained outside the Dardanelles and thus going back from the principle which she had already accepted in the same way as she had withdrawn from the principle of preliminary conference which she also at one time accepted.

A Conference Mission.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Grand Review of the Situation

LONDON April 27.—There is no material change in the war situation this week. The game of diplomatic chess still proceeds without definite result. Meantime Russia is busily engaged in consolidating her territorial gains, though really England continues to occupy her position of diplomatic isolation. Her hopes to secure Austrian alliance have failed as everybody now admits and your correspondent predicted. Austria cannot afford the responsibility of war, and has nothing to gain by it which she cannot obtain by non intervention between England and Russia until hostile blows are actually exchanged when she can extort from the czar her own terms. But all the powers are becoming tired of the suspense and distrust nearly as damaging as war itself. They believe England is temporizing and shuffling in the hope to wear out Russian financial power of resistance. This hope is sustained by the failure of the efforts to place another Russian loan recently made in Berlin. The popular impulse for war has somewhat abated here and the tone of the press is less belligerent. There is a growing feeling that the British ministry is too purely technical in its objections to Russia's proposals. On the continent this sentiment amounts to a sense of resentment and England is losing her moral power accordingly. If she persists in war now she will be as completely without sympathy as allies. While it is difficult to see how she can honorably retire from her pugnacious committals to war, calm thinkers still believe she will find her road to peace through Bismarck's aid. The only serious counter view is based on the British theory that her issue with Russia can only be postponed at best and that she had better fight now while Russia is comparatively crippled and exhausted.

What will Settle the Question

BERLIN April 27.—The North German Gazette says the action of diplomacy centers in the answer of England to Italy's inquiry as to the English programme. At the outbreak of the war England honorably laid down her interests as a guide and measure of her attitude. Her programme the color of which England must sooner or later make known and which has already assumed very various aspects from the language of different English ministers will ultimately be decisive of the eastern crisis.

The Italian Proposition

Referring to the Italian proposition that England state her views the Post says it would be futile and inconsistent with our position to propose any scheme until the main principle of European control has been conceded without which no scheme could acquire validity or sanction.

Recent Rows in Russia.

A St Petersburg correspondent writes: I observe the foreign press devote much attention to street disorders which recently occurred in St Petersburg and Moscow. Some organs seem to regard them as symptoms of a dangerous revolutionary movement. In reality they have no such significance. There is not the slightest danger of the public tranquility being seriously disturbed. Any danger of that kind will first appear when prices rise and taxations are increased.

Orders to the English Army

LONDON, April 27.—Great enthusiasm was manifested in military circles last night on its becoming known that the whole of the staff and commissioned officers at Aldershot had received orders to hold themselves in readiness for immediate active service. It is also stated that all principal officers had received important secret instructions for certain contingencies. It is said orders will be shortly issued for the formation of the second army corps and raising of that corps to its establishment.

Trouble in Servia.

A famine is raging at Uranjo caused by military requisitions.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON April 7

House

The house went into committee of the whole on the Indian appropriation bill. Potter in the chair. The bill recommends an appropriation of $4 871 740 and is the usual run of report of the appropriation committee. It provides that whenever it is found practicable to employ Indians in farming or other civilized occupations in which they can contribute to their maintenance the commissioner of Indian affairs may use such portions of their respective subsistence funds as can be spared to pay for the services of such Indians as may be induced to labor for their own advancement. It further provides that so much of the appropriations as may be required to pay for goods and supplies shall be immediately available.

General debate having been dispensed with the bill was read by sections. After adopting two or three unimportant amendments the committee rose and the bill was passed.

The house then went into committee of the whole on the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill Eden in the chair.

The total amount appropriated by the bill is $14 745 000.

Atkins chairman of the committee on appropriations said the bill was $65 000 less than the like bill in 1876 and $711 000 less than the bill for the current year. It is also less than the bill passed the last session of the 43d congress by $4 161 000 and less than the bill of the last session of the 42d congress by $4 000 000. The committee on appropriations had tried to eliminate unnecessary public offices. He referred to the failing off of the customs duties from $212 000 000 in 1872 to $130 000 000 in 1877 and said the house had either to restrict government expenditures with its revenues or increase taxation. He opposed resumption and consequent contraction of the currency. It meant simply ruin.

The bill was read by sections for amendments. After completing the section regarding the legislative department of the government and the sections for the support of the executive department and each department the committee rose and the house adjourned.

Mohave Indians, or by the appropriations for general expenses.

The prices of wool in New York city this week are fair, sales taking one thousand bales daily. Superfine to best selections ranging from 31 cents per pound and best unwashed combing and delaine 18 cents per pound. Fine and favorable rights to purchase have been secured this week to the extent of 1 000 000 pounds daily. Quotations per pound are: Fine unwashed 21 cents; fine washed 31 cents; fine delaine 31 cents; fine unwashed combing 31 cents; fine washed combing 40 cents. These prices are about 10 per cent higher than last week and a further advance is expected as the weather grows warmer. The wool trade in New York is a money maker.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

A San Francisco Privateering Scheme

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—It is reported this evening by parties who claim to be in the plot that in anticipation of the breaking out of hostilities between England and Russia a movement is afoot to fit out a privateer in this port to prey on British commerce. Letters of marque from the Russian government are already here in blank waiting for the declaration of war to be filled out. Negotiations are under way for the purchase of one of a number of steamers now laid up in Alameda creek on the opposite side of the bay. The commissions of the officers are also here and funds to carry out the project. Over 200 men have signed articles binding themselves to engage in the enterprise recruits being mostly drawn from the idle class who are ready for anything. Capt. Waddell late of the wrecked Pacific Mail steamship City of San Francisco formerly in command of the rebel privateer Shenandoah is mentioned as the probable commander, and Capt. Lapidge late of the Pacific Mail service is named as one of the officers. An attempt will be made to procure a number of boys from the training ship Jamestown for service as midshipmen. The parties profess to mean business, and will be prepared to move on the instant war is declared. From other sources it is learned that the Russian corvette Crusser, now lying in port is prepared for instant action, and the object of her long delay here is to obtain the earliest possible news of the outbreak of hostilities and at once go to sea to lie in wait for British vessels bound to this port. It is understood that with the exception of the corvette Opal and a small gunboat the Rocket at Victoria and the frigate Shah, which is supposed to be somewhere in the neighborhood of Panama, there is not a single British war vessel in the North Pacific to interfere with the designs of the Russian cruiser and it is probable the vessels at Victoria would be retained there for defensive purposes.

Experimental Hanging

SAN FRANCISCO April 27.—It is asserted that the subject of John Runk's execution was discussed Thursday night by a party comprising one or more of the deputy sheriffs, and it was then stated that the knot would be placed in a peculiar manner on her the chin of the condemned man in order to try an experiment, as it was believed increased distance from the rear perpendicular of his body would more certainly break his neck. Some difference of opinion existed among the speakers but it was finally determined to try the theory upon Runk.

Con Virginia Dividends.

SAN FRANCISCO April 27.—J. C. Flood is authority for the statement that the next dividend of the Consolidated Virginia will be $1 per share. This reduction is due to necessity for repairs to the main shaft, which will interfere with the ore production. It is expected the reduction will only be temporary.

The Gumaga-Lebreton Affair.

John Gumaga who was arrested on a charge of assault to murder A. J. Lebreton, was released from custody last night, bonds for $30 000 having been filed in the police court. Lebreton's condition is considered critical.

Sawmill Burned.

EUREKA April 27.—Dolbeer & Carson's sawmill was totally destroyed by fire at 9 o'clock last evening. Lumber on the wharf sustained serious damage also. The general belief is that incendiarism was the cause of the fire. The loss is estimated from $50 000 to $75 000 [illegible] insurance.

A Row in the Workingmen's Camp.

SAN FRANCISCO April 28.—The state central committee of the workingmen's party held a meeting last night to consider the resolutions proposed by Kearney forbidding all officers of state or county committees or ward clubs from holding positions as delegates to the constitutional convention. The extent to which Kearney has become antagonistic to many of the other leaders of the party was fully exemplified. He was violently assailed by Knight, McCabe and others given the lie direct which he seemed to lack the courage to resent, and in one or two instances matters came very near proceeding to physical violence. The vote by which the resolutions were adopted was reconsidered and the motion to refer to the state convention carried.

Sand Lot Meetings.

The meeting of workingmen at the sand lots to day was attended by the usual number present at recent meetings about a thousand or fifteen hundred. Kearney read the resolutions which created such a breeze at the meeting of the state central committee last night and the crowd present approved his action and intimated that in their opinion there was no occasion for any state convention that the whole question of electing delegates etc might as well be settled there on the sand lots. Knight was present but was accorded only an indifferent hearing, the crowd evidently taking umbrage at his opposition to Kearney.

Yacht Excursion.

The yacht squadron returned from an excursion to Vallejo this afternoon the Consuelo leading the fleet down the bay. The yachtsmen and their guests report a very enjoyable run. At Vallejo last night a brilliant ball at the Bernard house added to the attractions of the excursion. All the yachts had a number of ladies on board, besides many of both sexes who accompanied the yachts on steamers chartered for the occasion.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA, April 2.—The bark Staghound, for Hastings Mills, arrived to day.

The bark H Buck with merchandise arrived yesterday.

The brig Hazard and bark Penang arrived at Departure Bay from San Francisco on Thursday. Both vessels load with Wellington coal for San Francisco.

The following vessels are now on the way for the Vancouver coal company. Ships War Hawk, Belvidere, Two Brothers and Tollerton and the barks Ramsay and H Buck for Dunsmuir Diggle & Co the ship Shirley and barks Iona, Nevada and Revere, and brig Levi Stevens.

A Disorderly Political Meeting

A very disorderly political meeting was held at the Theater Royal last night. The speakers were constantly interrupted and cheers counter cheers hisses and groans continued for a long time. The chairman at last left the chair and the gas was turned off. A portion of the audience remained in the darkness until candles had been produced, when a new meeting was organized and speeches made by three or four candidates for the house. The feeling against the Chinese is daily becoming stronger, and much warm is felt by the white laboring class at the steady increase of that undesirable population.

Portents of Politics.

From the New York World.

It is rather early yet in the day to make up one's mind that it will be a good thing for the whole nation if the two existing political parties are disintegrated and destroyed. Who her both of these parties ought to perish is a thing to be decided by the best light of both during the remainder of the time which are immediately before them all over the land. It has become quite plain to the most that in this city the old division by these parties is of urgent value unless the Democrats can speedily rid themselves of all association with the Tammany Hall club of office holders and salary grabbers and unless the Republican corporators of the island of Manhattan cease to quiet with Alvord and his gang, at Albany

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 29, 1878.

THE STATE PRINTING.

Attempting to justify the work of Mr. Nolliner as expert in the measurement of the state grant, the Statesman presents a certificate obtained from Mr. E. M. Waite of Salem to the effect that in accord with the instructions of the secretary of state he had measured the senate and house journals of the session of 1878 and found there should be a reduction in both of but $408.50 from the measurement made and certified to by Mr. Nolliner. The Standard says that in so large an amount of printing as $13,000 will stand a reduction comparatively slight, and not more than might be expected. Mr. Waite also certifies that he measured up the work under the law of 1874 while Mr. Nolliner in making his estimate was governed by the law in existence prior to that date which Mr. White supposes would not admit even of the small reduction estimated by him, as above stated. He further says: The measurement was not reduced by applying the (new) law, as I had supposed. The law of 1874 requires deficient as the old one, and in many particulars it is difficult to make as close an estimate as if the specifications were more closely defined.

Mr. Waite was a candidate for state printer before the Republican convention recently held at Salem. If this certificate which was given several months ago as its date shows came to the knowledge of the convention we cannot wonder at his defeat, because we don't think it is the intention of any considerable number of people that the state printing shall be executed and measured hereafter substantially as heretofore. Those journals are printed in a manner which is a barefaced fraud upon the state. The standard says they cost $20,000. Mr. Waite would jump at the offer to print them in better style by private contract for one third of the money. They are printed in a manner which is a gross outrage on typographical principles devised expressly to make a great bill against the state. No matter what anybody says the printing of these journals is a swindle straight through. Adherence to the ordinary rules of printing would bring the matter of the journals within little more than half the number of pages saving composition paper and press work, and total cost in proportion. Printed however, in defiance of all rules and the plain letter of the law for the sole purpose of making a great bill against the state the proof of fraud stares one in the face on any page at which they may be opened. The law says that no break lines shall be made in a sentence. But there is scarcely a page of the two journals where the printer has not violated the law one or more times. He has made as many as eighteen break lines in a single sentence although the law has forbidden him to make one—thus making half a page where three or four lines should have sufficed. Mr. Waite doesn't execute private printing in this way. The reputation he wishes to maintain for fair dealing and typographical skill would not allow it nor would the customer tolerate either the work or the bill. Both he and Mr. Nolliner may be challenged to produce a specimen of any other printing in the world executed as these journals of the Oregon legislature have been.

As an illustration of the manner in which this printing has been done, we give a page or two of the senate journal entire. The following is a transcript of every syllable of page 663. It will be seen that the amount printed within a few lines instead of being spread all over a broad page, and charged up as a full page against the state.

And the same are herewith returned for signature.

Chief Clerk.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.
STATE OF OREGON, LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT,
Ninth Regular Session House of Representatives,
SALEM, Oct. 18, 1876.

Mr. President: I am directed by the speaker to inform you that he has signed H. B. No. 30 and H. B. No. 89 and the same are herewith transmitted for your signature.
W. L. WHITE,
Chief Clerk.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.
STATE OF OREGON, LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT,
Ninth Regular Session House of Representatives,
SALEM, Oct. 18, 1876.

Mr. President: I am directed by the speaker to inform you that the house has concurred in the adoption of S. J. M. No. 5 and S. J. R. No. 22.

According to law each page should contain about thirty five lines in small pica type but many of the pages contain not one half the matter required by law. Look at this, which is the whole matter on page 557 of the senate journal:

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.
STATE OF OREGON, LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT,
Ninth Regular Session, House of Representatives,
SALEM, Oct. 17, 1876.

Mr. President: I am directed by the speaker to inform you that he has signed H. B. No. 5, H. B. No. 15, H. B. No. 20, H. B. No. 35, H. B. No. 83, H. B. No. 94 and H. B. No. 112. Also H. J. M. No. 6, H. J. R. No. 21 and H. J. R. No. 25. And the same are herewith transmitted for your signature.
W. L. WHITE,
Chief Clerk.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE.
STATE OF OREGON, LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT,
Ninth Regular Session, House of Representatives,
SALEM, Oct. 17, 1876.

Mr. President: I am directed by the speaker to inform you that the house has passed.

The state printer has set this up so as to make of it thirty-six lines on the long and broad page of the journal several of the lines containing but a single word each. The whole page is set up in eighteen lines of THE OREGONIAN'S measure nonpareil type and could be set in a fewer number in the broad measure of the journal, small pica type. Like instances are innumerable. By this illegal method the bulk of the journals has been increased to nearly twice the size it ought to be. But it is claimed that the measurement cannot be materially reduced by applying the new law. That might depend much on the spirit in which the law is applied. It would be better to do the printing according to the ordinary rules of the art than to strain the law for excuses to cover grabs from the state treasury. Publication of this certificate as his vindication, a certificate which shows that a way has already been devised to evade the new law is sufficient notice that Mr. Nolliner if elected will execute the printing substantially in the style followed heretofore. It is for the people to judge whether he should be elected or not.

A DELEGATE'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

A letter from Washington city printed in a paper of Washington territory extols Delegate Jacobs for his great services on the railroad question. It lavishes praise upon him for having supported the interests of the people, expresses delight with the conduct required as to disposition of the land granted for construction of the road and predicts that as a consequence within three years the citizens of Walla Walla, Whitman and Spokane counties will be sending out wheat, flour and feed at $1 per ton and getting their freight for as per ton. All this may be very true.

Now the fact is [illegible] Mr. Jacobs has [illegible] Washington territory out of a grant of land granted to no one else and it has loaded the Northern Pacific with so many conditions and restrictions as to make it extremely doubtful whether the company can ever [illegible]. At best it is so crippled that it cannot accomplish what is expected. The [illegible] indicate that the present bill is not considered at the east as being of any real value to the company. Under color of protecting the rights of the people a policy has been pursued which will give the company no resources equal to the work it is expected to perform.

If the company were permitted to sell the good lands for what they would bring, as the market price might be a chance to obtain aid. I assure you that if I am the [illegible] person I will ever [illegible] strange as [illegible] salaries [illegible] but I part it is during my administration [illegible] tion of but in securities of the state [illegible] be understood, must be successful and certainly will not [illegible] the [illegible] votes I am [illegible] to study.

FACE SHOCKINGLY CUT.—Mr. Wm. O. Allen [illegible] the well known house mover was throw[illegible] from a carriage and had his face shocking[illegible] cut yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock. H[illegible] was on a visit to Oswego to give some instru[illegible] tions to a force of men he has employed on the [illegible] cutting wood. Mr. Allen had occasion afte[illegible] reaching his destination to alight from hi[illegible] buggy, and it was while he was in the act of getting into the vehicle that he met with the accident. The horses were very gentle and without taking hold of the reins Mr. Allen stepped into the carriage and was just in the act of stooping to adjust the blan[illegible] on the seat. While so engaged the horses started up quickly and before Mr. Allen could grasp hold of anything to save himself or break the force of the fall he was pitched headlong to the ground. Unluckily he happened to fall in a heap of cinders which had been thrown out from the iron works at Oswego. Against the sharp and rugged edges of the cinders Mr. Allen was flung. He struck violently on the left side of his face, and received a deep gash extending from the base of the nose just below the eye to a point an inch or more beyond the cheek bone. The bones of the face on that side were badly fractured and the flesh hung down over the cheek, making a bloody and ghastly wound. The horses were stopped at once and no damage done to the carriage. Mr. Allen was badly stunned for a few moments, but soon recovering he was brought down to this city and taken to the office of Dr. Wm. B. Card, well where his wound was dressed. Some of the fragments of the bones were taken out and the cut sewed up. Mr. Allen stood the painful operation very well and, notwithstanding, his injuries are quite severe, the physician is confident that he will soon be able to attend to his everyday duties.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.—At an early hour yesterday morning Chief Besser arrested a man named C. Morris charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. The circumstances of the case are about as follows: Friday a lad aged about fifteen years named Archie Shephard came from the country to Portland seeking employment. Saturday the lad says he met Morris and told him his object in coming to this city. Morris said he knew where the boy could find work out in the country near the city. The two went out to the First street bridge where they sat down and had a long conversation as the boy says. The became quite communicative, and during the talk young Shephard told Morris that he had $20 in silver. Morris told the lad that he could carry $20 in gold much easier than he could silver, that he (Morris) had a $20 gold piece which he would exchange for the silver. He also told the lad, as a further inducement, that if he took the gold he could exchange it for silver and make 75 cents on it. Young Shephard was foolish enough to pass over his coin receiving in exchange what he supposed was a $20 gold piece. Morris soon after left the lad and came down to the city. The boy saw him after not a man and showed him the spurious piece asked what it was worth. He was told that it was absolutely worthless. Shephard immediately came down to the police headquarters and told his story. A warrant was issued and yesterday Morris was arrested and lodged in jail charged with obtaining money under false pretense. To-day the case will come up for trial in police court.

HOW DALE LOST.—Of course everybody knows Sheriff Dale of Yamhill county. We have just heard of a good joke (a sort of practical one I should say) which was played off on our rubicund friend. A short time ago a man giving his name as Reynolds and claiming to be a sort of deputy United States marshal, came over from Pierce county, Washington territory. Reynolds claimed to be in search of a prisoner whom he said he thought was somewhere in Yamhill county. Soon after arriving in this state Reynolds went to Dale and showed his credentials, (at least Dale took them for genuine documents), he struck that office for the loan of $20. Reynolds told a very plausible story and he had spotted his man and was certain to get him; that he was a little short of funds just then, that he would leave the amount solicited ($20) in the hands of Capt. Allen, of the police force when he reached Portland with his prisoner. To make assurance doubly sure, Reynolds showed Dale a telegram that he had received from his (Reynolds') wife which stated that she had expressed him money to Portland. Dale handed over the amount to Reynolds without further question. A few days after Dale came down to Portland in advance of Reynolds. He told Capt. Allen the circumstances and said that when Reynolds and his prisoner reached this city, for Dale to take the money and keep it for him. Last Friday Reynolds came down with a man named Moody or Woods, and left the following message for the Columbia. He forgot to leave the money with Capt. Allen and Woody is not his prisoner but a fellow whose character is [illegible] of the best. Dale thinks he has been victimized. Guess he is about right.

CITY.

BARBENTINE QUARTET.—Saturday we had the pleasure of inspecting the new and hard some barkentine (Quicksilver) which arrived about two weeks ago direct from New York with a general cargo Since her arrival at this port the Quicksilver has been lying at Pettygrove street wharf foot of Salmon street Wm Flanders master Captain Leo J Fake who has command of the vessel and is one of her principal owners is a very courteous and accomplished gentleman who kindly furnished all desired information and made our brief stay aboard the barkentine as pleasant as possible The Clark Nickerson Quicksilver was built at Port Ludlow Washington territory and launched during the month of December 1877 She was built by Hall Bros who have built also eleven vessels during the past four years The vessel is constructed almost exclusively of native woods Her dimensions are length 140 feet, hold 13 feet beam 31 feet registered tonnage 423 tons carrying capacity about 900 tons After being launched the Quicksilver made a voyage to San Francisco returning to one of the Sound ports She next loaded with lumber for Peru She accomplished the voyage to Iquique in 65 days While lying at that port the place was visited by the great earthquake but fortunately the vessel escaped without damage Discharging her cargo at Iquique the vessel loaded with saltpetre for New York, making her trip in 50 days Her assorted cargo was received at New York from Portland and the vessel sailed for this port, being consigned to the well known firm of Cupp, Burrell & Co The voyage was made in 28 days. Head winds were encountered for a great portion of the way, considering which fact, the passage was a remarkably quick one. The barkentine brought a full cargo, which came out in splendid condition Not only is the Quicksilver a powerfully constructed vessel, possessing a handsome model and rapid sailer she is barkentine rigged and capable of carrying a large amount of canvas On the passage to this port the vessel made 365 miles in 24 hours when favored by auspicious winds This fact will serve to indicate the sailing qualities of the craft The Quicksilver is a beautiful little vessel and one of which the builders and masters should feel proud. Yesterday morning the vessel was towed down the river to Knappton where she will load with lumber for San Francisco

Allen it seems took the money and keep it for him Last Friday Reynolds came down with a man named Moody, or Woody and left the following morning for up the Columbia He forgot to leave the money with Capt Allen and it transpires that this man Moody alias Woody is not a prisoner, but a fellow whose character is some of the best Dale thinks he has been victimized. Guess he is about right too.

DAMAGED FRUIT CROPS.—A gentleman in this city has received a letter from Ashland in Southern Oregon, which states that the weather in that vicinity has recently been very cold. Ice during the nights has been formed to nearly the thickness of an inch, and heavy frosts have not been infrequent. This cold spell had done great injury to the fruit crops The writer states that not more than one-fourth of the usual crop of apples and other fruit has been destroyed The reports which reach us from Eastern Oregon and portions of Washington Territory are not any more favorable The weather in those regions has been very cold and the change has been done the fruit buds generally It was so cold as to freeze the cattle through and kill them

THE LAST DANCE.—Next Wednesday evening Prof Cardinal will give a party at Pythian Hall. This will be the last dance of the season Specimens will be sold at 25 cents each Participants will pay $1 50 including a gentleman and lady ticket Good music will be in attendance and an enjoyable time may be anticipated All who attend.

THE CONCERT.

Among the most fashionable and successful entertainments of the season of 1877-78 will be the concert given on Saturday evening at New Market Theater and which was participated in by the best musical talent of the city. The programme was a most excellent one, and the rendition of the various pieces was in every instance highly creditable to the performers. The audience was a large and appreciative one, and the entertainment was in every particular a most enjoyable one. The following is the programme as rendered:

STATISTICS AND TRADE

Three Louisianians are credited with killing 9 000 alligators last year They saved the oil and sold the hides for 5 cents apiece

The St Paul Pioneer Press says that Minneapolis operates 14 run of stone Their capacity at rates it at about 6 000 000 bushels of wheat a year

The Iron and Steel Association of Philadelphia says that the total production of pig iron in the United States last year was 3 835 657 tons 2 000 pounds a gain of 10 per cent over 1877

The Post in Europe estimates 100 000 per week of American products landed at England from that country during the year making 5 000 000 more than the returns of 1870 The principal exports were of raw provisions produced from the west

The population of Great Britain and Ireland at the last census at the official census of April 1871 was 31 628 348 exclusive of people away in the army navy and merchant service abroad estimated at 700 000 The population of the United States June 1 was 38 925 598 and at the time the British census was taken it was probably just about 30 000 000

Texas is one of the most wonderful states in the Union and is rapidly increasing in population It now contains over 2 000 000 inhabitants and receives annual increase by immigration of from 75 000 to 100 000 people The state raises annually some 700 000 bales of cotton worth $30 000 000 The annual export of cattle is $10 000 000 in value wool $1 000 000 hides, $1 800 000 beef in barrels and cans $2 000 000 and of other products $3 000 000 Two years ago 4 000 000 pounds of wool were shipped from Texas

As the greatest depth to which the earth has been penetrated is only about seven thousandth of its diameter any attempt to base the rate of increase of the internal heat upon the observed temperature of the comparatively superficial punctures made in its crust will only result in error Dr Hann has just pointed out that if physicists were to attempt to determine in the same way the law of diminution of temperature with height in the atmosphere a similar proportion to the height of the atmosphere, 60 miles would be 2216 metres, or the height of an ordinary house

Gould Disgusted

[Washington Dispatch to Philadelphia Times]

This has thus far been a bad winter for the Gould lobby Everything that his crowd have taken an interest in has been beaten and everything they opposed has seemed to succeed It is said to-night that Gould lays his defeat to the Texas Pacific influence and swears vengeance Mr Gould shook the dust of the capital from his feet last night and took Jay Gould Huntington Sidney Dillon and Gen Dodge took the train for New York So we may they have abandoned the fight and will make no effort to beat the funding bill in the house It is understood on all sides that had Gould kept away from the capitol and from Washington the bill would never have passed the senate but that his effrontery and his anxiety were so conspicuous that his friends were scared away

Very Much to the Point

[From the Chicago Tribune]

If Mr Tilton desires to be reconciled to his family let him do it privately The people are tired of Mrs Tilton's really pretty she had better keep quiet about it The people are tired of her They are tired of Beecher of Moulton of the mother in law and of every man woman and child who has had any connection direct or indirect with this miserable old scandal There are fresh scandals though occurring every day without digging up ancient ones The best thing that Tilton and Mrs Tilton and Beecher and all the rest can do is to make themselves so scarce that they will occupy no place in the public attention at last people may even wish that they were dead as well as the scandal

It is repartee from the Boston Herald is not without interest When I left the Democratic party says Benjamin Butler it was an honorable association of brave men Is that why you left it Benjamin?

Last fall the sum of $48 000 was subscribed to pay off the debts of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions the amount already paid in for this purpose is $49 986

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand and the patient need not fear the result.
